LAW COLLEGE FEE IS LOWERED BY TRUSTEES

Appointments Made by the Board in Regular Session Wednesday

McVEY HAS SECRETARY

Three appointments, the reduction of the semester fee of twenty-five dollars to twenty dollars in the College of Law, and the reading of the President's biennial report to the General Assembly featured the executive meeting of the Board of Trustees, in regular session, last Wednesday.

President McVey announced he had procured Wellington Patrick, AB. A. M., graduate of Washington University and former student of this University, from Meigs county, as private secretary. Mr. Patrick assumed his duties yesterday. The president recommended and the board approved the appointment of A. O. Whipple, of the University of North Dakota, as superintendent of buildings and grounds of the University. Mr. Whipple will arrive April 1.

J. O. LeBach was recommended and approved as head of the Food and Drug work of the Experiment Station to succeed Robert M. Allen. Prof. W. A. Newman was detailed to take up certain teaching work formerly done by W. J. Carrel of the College of Civil Engineering, on account of the latter having entered military service.

The outstanding feature of the meeting was the approval of Dean Lafferty's recommendation to lower the semester fee of the College of Law from twenty-five to twenty dollars, as was approved at the meeting of December 15. Dean Lafferty said that the raise would tend to keep certain students away from college and cause them to read law in offices, thereby detracting from the standards in practice that the law college was designated to uphold.

Dr. McVey read his biennial report to the General Assembly which was approved and ordered printed.

President McVey reported that under the operation of the Smith-Hughes bill certain funds would be available to the University of Kentucky this year with which to establish the work of training teachers for vocational education. The President was empowered by the Board to procure the services of such teachers in this work as would meet the requirements of the Smith-Hughes bill. As yet no appointment has been made.

The President was also authorized to make such arrangements to protect buildings against the recurrence of fire like that which damaged the Mining Building. Such arrangements will be brought before the next meeting of the Board.

STROLLERS WILL STAR IN COMBINATION BILL

Three One-Act Plays and a Curtain Raiser on Program.

WAR FUND BENEFIT

Three one-act plays and a curtain raiser, the result of the combined efforts of Transylvania, University of Kentucky and Lexington townspeople will be given on the evening of January 22, in the auditorium of the Lexington College of Music, under the auspices of the Central Kentucky Branch of the Southern Association of College Women, for the benefit of its war fund.

The program will be given under the general management of Miss Christine Hopkins, with Mr. Edward Saxon directing Transylvania's play, and Mr. William McComas, the town group.

Transylvania will act Walker Butter Yeak's 'Cathleen in Hoolihan,' an Irish folk play set in the latter half of the eighteenth century, whose theme is the demand of Ireland, personified by the "old woman" of the title role, for her best and bravest sons to save her from the French invasion. The effective story makes an appeal to patriotism that is very timely.

"The Open Door," a short drama by the English playwright, Alfred Sutro, is the piece in charge of Mr. McComas, who is probably the best known actor in Lexington. Mr. McComas has had professional experience, having at one time been a member of E. H. Sothern's Shakespearean company. "The Open Door" is an example of Sutro's most brilliant work.

The University of Kentucky will be responsible for the curtain raiser, "One Word More," a clever sketch whose dialog is written in lines of one word each. Two talented members of the Strollers, Miss Elizabeth Murphy and Mr. Milton Revill will be seen in this act. The third play, "Entr' Acte," will be played by Miss Edna Berkele, Mr. Lee McClain and Miss Hopkins.

PATTERSON VS. UNION ON WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Debate upon the Woman Suffrage amendment in Kentucky will be held Friday night in the annual meet of the teams from the Patterson and Union Literary Societies. At the same time the four best men on the two teams will be selected as the University team to meet representatives from Transylvania and Centre.

The representatives of the Patterson Society are Millam Dammitt and Stewart. Their opponents are Blachof, Rice and Dabney. The public is cordially invited to the debate, to hear a lively discussion of a timely subject.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ENTRANCE CHANGED

A new ruling regarding entrance requirements, which affects students entering the University in September, 1917, and all entering after that time, was passed by the faculty Monday night.

An exact copy of the rule follows:

"Any graduate of an accredited school will be admitted who presents 3 units English, 1 unit Plane Geometry, 1 unit Algebra, and 10 other units selected from any subjects counted by an accredited school toward graduation. However, not more than 4 units of Vocational work will be allowed.

"Students not graduates of an accredited school must pass examinations on 15 units distributed in the same way.

"After June, 1919, no student will be admitted with a condition."

GIRL BASKETFEERS TO STAGE REAL CONTEST

'Lady Wildcats' Lock Horns With Wesleyan Maids Saturday Night.

PARK ENTHUSIASTIC

In an effort to continue the same score relations between the two schools in athletics, the "Lady Wildcats," will meet the Wesleyan girls in basket ball Saturday night.

This will probably be the first time the whole squad has been together since the beginning of practice. Coach Park is enthusiastic about his girls and says the Wesleyan lassies will have to play their best to make any impression. "The girls are very much interested in the game and those who have practiced have done it earnestly and thoroly. It is the conflicting interests of Home Economics classes, and some other girlish studies that prevent a complete practice. In selecting the squad for the game Saturday night, I have had to make relative comparisons of the players as they have seldom been together, but I believe they will win. This conflict of classes and practice will be remedied after examinations, and our practice will be more effective."

The U. K. girls believe the strongest dope the Wesleyan team has in its favor is its possession of one of Kentucky's former stars, Miss Ellwanger. She will be remembered as the forward of last year's team who divided honors in goal-getting with Miss Cregor. They were wont to stand one on each side of the goal, hold the ball out of the reach of the smaller opponents and shoot until a goal was made. Miss Ellwanger may play against Miss Cregor at center.

The Wild Tabbies will lineup as follows: Center, Miss Cregor; guards, Misses Hayden and Dean; forwards, Misses Crane and Cromwell. Substitutes are Misses Porter, Walker and Jameson.

CAT SHARP-SHOOTERS OVERWHELM WESLEYAN

Basket Hunters Look Good in Season's Initial Indoor Game.

THOMAS SEEMS FIND

The Wildcats have started! Their first score is 23 to 13. With a game that showed them to be basket ball players with a future, in which Wesleyan played the minor part, they have begun a campaign of victory.

There is no especially adverse criticism to make of the team in its first game. Of course there were the many little faults of beginners in their first game together, but these are all small enough to admit of immediate cure. The prospects of a winning team, and even of a spectacular team are bright. Basket ball fans in general were well pleased with the first game.

Dead-Shot Thomas.

The individual star of the game was Thomas, and it was his first game. His floor work was good, but his goal shooting was better. Five of the goals were credited to him. The captain, Pat Campbell, secured two for his hoodoo string and Bastin, McKlincy, Shanklin and Zerfoss shot one apiece. Zerfoss pitched fouls.

Wesleyan played a clean, hard game, but proved inferior to the Wildcats in passing and shooting. The game was marked by few fouls, and little rough playing. Daddy Boles was, of course, not very warm in his praise of the team in order not "to give them the big-head," but his few remarks after the game showed that he was well satisfied.

The varsity did not share the honors by themselves, however. Substitutes Marsh and Barbee, who were sent in, made their opponents aware they were on the floor.

The Wildcat lineup was, Thomas, Center; Zerfoss and Campbell, forwards; and Bastin and Glickman, guards.

Look Out Centre.

Five veteran Tigers will face the new Wildcat basket ball team Thursday night at Danville.

$821,500 ASKED FOR BY PRESIDENT McVEY

Money Badly Needed For Permanent Repairs and Current Expenses

REQUEST IS EXPECTED

President McVey's report to the General Assembly, covering the work of the University since January, 1916, contains his plan for the next biennial period and requests $821,500 as funds for organization, current expenses and improvements.

The report was read to the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees, approved and ordered printed and has been sent to the Governor of Kentucky and to the Legislature, the former already having highly recommended in his opening address a sufficient appropriation to the state university.

Approximately one-half the amount asked, or $456,000, will be used in permanent investment, thereby relieving the State of a similar expenditure for several years.

Dr. McVey, in his report, emphasized the fact that the state universities of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin were making their states leaders, because of sufficient state funds. He said Kentucky should also place herself among the leaders. In concluding his report, Dr. McVey said that the government is constantly calling on the University for help and that wars are won by the increased intelligence of trained men; the mobilization of agricultural resources, and the development of engineering capacity.

He stated that the appropriation was indispensable to these developments.

A digest of President McVey's report follows: The wisdom of establishing a state university as the crown of the public school system has been adopted in the United States as a necessary part of the public policy.

The report is divided into two groups, (1) organization, (2) funds. Funds embraces, (a) those required for permanent improvements, and (b) those needed for current expenses.

ONE CLEAR CALL TO DUTY.

The Kernel takes this means of expressing appreciation on behalf of the student body of the University of Kentucky of the editorial attitude of Lexington's two excellent daily newspapers, favoring legislative approval of recommendations made by President McVey in his recently published biennial report to the General Assembly.

No class of citizens desires more heartily the success of President McVey's recommendations to the Legislature than the present student body. Nor is this a selfish desire, because most of them shall have departed from the University by the time the full benefits of the relief asked by President McVey shall have been forthcoming.

It is chiefly to the future that we are looking—the future of the University and the Commonwealth.

"It requires money to equip, man and maintain a great institution of learning. Kentucky is abundantly able to give the University the financial support necessary to its success." So reads an excerpt from one of the commendable editorials to which we previously referred.

Rather than a gift, however, we would have the Legislature and the public consider the proposed appropriation in the light of an investment or a loan. Owners of liberty loan bonds are not of the opinion that they have given. They think rather that they have lent assistance, and in lending assistance, have invested wisely. We firmly believe that an appropriation of funds by the Legislature now in session would be of like nature."

To further and mature plans of re-organization and development, the University is in dire need of more revenue. When such an appropriation is made the Kernel would be pleased to have such a contract as the following at least understood:

"For the loan of $821,500, the University of Kentucky promises to pay to the State of Kentucky better lawyers, capable of solving civil problems; teachers who shall be more worthy of the profession; more skillful engineers who will conduct your mines and build your bridges; more intelligent farmers who will be able materially to increase the agricultural output of the State; and even better trained soldiers to defend your hearths and homes."

WELCOME TO DEAN COOPER.

The Kernel desires to welcome into the family circle of the University, Dean Thomas P. Cooper, recently elected directing head of the College of Agriculture and Experiment Station, and sincerely hopes that his achievements in the great field of endeavor he has just entered in Kentucky will be as outstanding as those which stand to his professional credit at the University of North Dakota, from which he comes to us.

Dean Cooper is a young man, of large vision, of ample ability, of wide experience, of friendly interest in the ambitions of young men and women and of the sort of impact and energy that spell great dynamic force.

He will find Kentucky both a prolific and a friendly field, which, with proper handling of the great instrument now placed in his hands, should fructify into greater achievement, greater material wealth and greater happiness for all the people.

THE LAST RITES OF THE KENTUCKY COLONEL

One of the most tragic events of the last week was the death of the Kentucky Colonel, who has long been prominent in these columns. The Colonel's death was caused by the passage of the Prohibition Bill by the Kentucky Legislature.

The death scene was pathetic. Sans mint juleps, whiskey straights, and the other inevitable accompaniments, he passed away, surrounded only by the members of the Kernel staff. His friend the Squirrel Food editor with whom he has intimately associated for the last year of his life, was heard to sniff audibly and say:

"He was one of the most faithful friends I ever had. Every week regardless of the weather, he was in his usual place in my column. He uncomplainingly said all those things which no one else would say, and was one of the best space-fillers I was acquainted with. His passing will create a vacancy which will be hard to fill."

The Kernel Cynic said in part: "The death of the Kentucky Colonel, while a shock, was not a surprise to those who knew him well. It has been noted that his ready wit, which in years past has been his most conspicuous trait, has been on a rapid decline this year. Probably had his care been in more skillful hands he might have been preserved to us, but in his weakened condition the passage of the Prohibition Bill was a blow which he was not able to turn aside.

The funeral will be held from the journalism rooms Wednesday at noon and the pall bearers will be the members of the Kernel staff and the former Squirrel Food editors. Burial private. Please omit flowers.

TO ANNOUNCE CAST FOR 'MICE AND MEN.'

Rehearsals for "Mice and Men," the 1918 Stroller play are now so far advanced that it is that the cast can be announced before examinations. Concentrated work, however, will not begin until after examinations.

Lee McClain, stage manager, has been working with triple casts in order that every applicant might have a chance to try out for the part he desired. McClain says that he is delighted not only at the unusual interest shown by the number of members that are out for the parts, but also at the real talent which has been evidenced. While prospects looked dark for the Strollers as with every other college organization, it seems that the new material will successfully fill the gaps left vacant by the absence of the old stars.

FRESHMEN GIRLS IN ONE-SIDED CONTEST

Kentucky Freshmen girls defeated the Lexington High School basketball team Friday night by a score of 17 to 1. The Freshmen lineup was: Miss Cromwell, center; Misses Jameson and Henry, forwards; and Misses Porter and Wright, guards.

ASTRONOMY CLASS HAS PARTY.

Members of the astronomy class surprised Professor Downing with a party at the observatory Thursday night of last week. Refreshments consisting of grape juice, olives and sandwiches were brought by the students and the evening was devoted to establishing intimate relations between teacher and pupil. Jokes and conundrums almost transformed the small room into an assembly of wits and notables. Many latent streams of humor were uncovered.

"THE WEAKLY DORM"
FOOD FOR SQUIRRELS

"Published when other publications on the Campus fail." This, the heading of the comedy sheet, "The Weekly Dorm," published by Robert Mitchell and Charles Planck, without the knowledge and consent of the University authorities, made its first appearance on the campus just before the holidays and had it not been that everyone was jubilantly happy, Planck, Mitchell and paper, would have probably been ejected from their various homes and dragged, ducked, dumped or otherwise bathed in the depths of Clifton pond.

Either Mitchell's heavy growth of hirsute adornment or Planck's measles the direct cause of such monstrous perpetration on the general public. However here follows a few "Oh, gwan," remarks.

DORM RECREATION.

Bill Millam cut off two weeks' growth of beard when the water came on in the old Dorm last week after the cold spell. He sent it home to upholster the old family saddle with.

"Dumps" Moore spent the week-end with Chief of Police Egan.

C. Planck, managing editor of the Weekly Dorm entertained the measles last week.

According to a Freshman Co-ed from Paducah, Prof. Jawn Price is the best lookin' man on the campus.

SAYERS IS ENGAGED IN ARMY INSURANCE

The Camp Zachary Taylor edition of the Courier Journal says: "Lieut. Warner P. Sayers, division insurance officer, who is in charge of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance for the entire camp, is preparing plans for a big campaign which is to start on January 11, with the purpose of insuring every man at Camp Zachary Taylor.

Lieut. Sayers is from Lexington, Ky., and is a University of Kentucky graduate. Since his graduation he has been connected with the F. D. Lawrence Electric Company of Cincinnati, O., jobbers of electrical supplies. He has never been in the insurance business and was commissioned in the infantry. However, he has made a splendid showing since handling this new department and expects to have every man in camp insured by February 12, the date of expiration of the automatic insurance with which everybody is covered now."

WINTER TRIUMPHS IN KY.-MIAMI GAME

Old King Winter is a cruel old soul as his record shows. Besides causing wet feet, cold hands, coal famines, gas shortage, not to speak of waterless dorms and bathless Saturdays, he has been trying his hand at preventing athletics. In the first encounter with the Wildcats, he won.

The squad started in high hopes and modest confidence for the town of Oxford, Ohio, where it was to mete out justice to the Miami University five, for their presumptuous contention of a nothing to nothing football score. Things along the railroad were frozen, but Wildcat determination ran high and warm till Winter played his hand. He selected Hamilton, Ohio, as the battle field and checked the advance of the Napoleons with one snow. New plans for future games were discussed by the Kentucky coaches and players as they returned home without any knowledge of Miami's team.

CHAPEL POSTPONED

No chapel exercises will be held until after examinations on account of the cold weather, according to an announcement made yesterday by C. R. Meicher, Dean of Men. The period will not be vacant, and classes will be held on the hour.

STROLLERS STAR

"Entr'Acte" has the amusing setting of a dress rehearsal for a burlesque to be given for charity. The amusing love affair of Romeo and Juliet are complicated by the machinations for Carmen, but all is adjusted to everyone's satisfaction in the end.

The faculty and students of both universities have been cordially invited to the entertainment, which will be the most unusual amateur performance Lexington has had the opportunity of seeing.

SHARP-SHOOTERS

Diddle, Tate, Bell, Davis and Penn are all letter men and played the whole season last year. They are regarded as some team by their adherents and the task of the Kentucky players is to dispel this illusion. Altho the present Wildcats have played only one game together, they are confident of their ability to a certain degree, and hope to avenge the defeat of their foot ball brothers of the K, last year. The nine men who left here for Oxford will be taken to Danville. They are: Campbell, Zerfoss, Bastin, Shanklin, Bartee, Thomas, Glickman, Marsh and McKinney.
